Cushman Gray Writes of the Routine Work'of the Y. M. C. A. Secretary.

well known to many in this community: to extend this notice to others. Wednesday, July 10, 1918.

My dear Mrs. Marshall: Every day at Queen City park. seems to hold its full quota of things to do and other things we do do. Yesterday was a full day. Our first regional conference with Mr. Carter, chief European secretary, and other representatives from the Paris office present, together with all the divisional secretaries time with her grandmother, Mrs. J. F. of the region, about 35 all told. Mr. Lamson. Carter is a most inspiring personality and I feel privileged in having met him. Twas a good conference and we are in hones of accomplishing more work because of it. Am very busy nowadays. here went into Paris for a conference over at New Haven.

My chief job is to keep the secretaries mess going, provide iting here, the food and keep the French woman Wednesday. going. As we can't purchase everything from our American commissary and are not allowed to buy indiscriminately from the French, it takes tact and diplomacy always to "get by," and sometimes much parleying and gesturing in French! How we will do it if it takes a leg, and my English is forgotten during the proc-My French woman does not speak English and my French is sadly cryptic, so you can picture our calisthenics when talking. It's rich!

Again the commissary won't sell in large quantities. It requires constant repetition to keep eight or ten people fed. But we can do it and observe all red tape. Last evening we had the formal opening exercises for the Y hut here. A very successful evening. Dr. Guy Benton spoke. A young lad gave humorous readings, a quartet from one of the companies stationed here gave several musical selections. We served lemonade and cigarettes gratis and ended with a was crowded and everybody voted it a most enjoyable affair.

To-night I must go up to the Y and see that our new gas engine that generates electricity for movies and illumination is running properly. It has just been installed and I received instruction on how to operate it this afternoon. Here's hoping it operates as expected. For my knowledge accumulated this afternoon between 1 and 2 o'clock of gasoline engines is not very large. When one has served as a hut secretary in European work for a few months he is ner. Can do most anything from run- taunoh, Canaan, N. H. impromptu entertainments, to praying ville with friends.

Tuesday night I went on an eightsome hiking and some going by truck.

The sight of ber of the club to enlist. these men was indeed inspiring to me fore a more responsive audience. There were two bands in attendance, so you can perhaps imagine the volume of sound when they played some popular air and the boys sang. Elsie herself was good, although not in particularly good voice. She has been over here several months and singing under all sorts of conditions soon has its effect on the human voice After the performance we "fell in" and marched back, arriving about midnight. The clock on the village church struck 12 just as I rolled into bed. Tired physically, tired but glad.

Our news from the trenches is about the same from day to day. Am feeling fine. Remember me to all. Cushman Gray.
